SIR:

PETITION TO WITHDRAW THE HOLDING OF ABANDONMENT
PURSUANT TO 37 CFR 1.181 AND MPEP 711.03(c)
BASED ON FAILURE TO RECEIVE THE OFFICE ACTION

Applicant hereby petitions the Commissioner under 37 CFR 1.181 and MPEP 711.03(c) to withdraw the holding of abandonment for the subject application based on failure to receive the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due. Pursuant to MPEP 711.03(c) and 37 CFR 1.181, no petition fee is required.

Applicant never became aware of the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due until 07/14/2005, and never received a copy of the Notice until 7/25/2005. Given the three month statutory period for response, the application became abandoned, technically, on 12/07/2004.

On 07/14/2005, Bernadette Queen, U.S. Patent & Trademark Office, Office of the Director-Publications Division, called Applicant's attorney to advise attorney that the application was technically abandoned because the Issue Fees had not been paid. On 07/25/2005, Bernadette Queen faxed a copy of the Notice to Applicant's attorney, which was the first that Applicant or Applicant's attorney received a copy of the outstanding Notice.

Accordingly, since the subject application has become abandoned, and because Applicant did not receive the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due until after abandonment, and did not become aware of the Notice until abandonment was imminent, Applicant hereby petitions the Commissioner to withdraw the holding of abandonment for the subject application, and accept payment of the issue/publication fees set forth in the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due dated 09/07/2004, which is attached herewith.

Accompanying this Petition and payment of issue/publication fees, Applicant submits a first Declaration of Matthew L. Wade setting forth the facts and description of events relating to the failure to receive the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due, and a second Declaration of Maria D. Carroll and the pertinent portion of HP's mail log showing that the Notice was never received.

Respectfully submitted,
Gustavo M. Guillemin

SIR:

DECLARATION OF MATTHEW L. WADE IN SUPPORT OF A PETITION TO WITHDRAW THE HOLDING OF ABANDONMENT BASED ON FAILURE TO RECEIVE THE OFFICE ACTION

The undersigned is an Attorney of Record for the subject Application.

The Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due was not received by Applicant or Applicant's attorney until 07/25/2005. A search of the file jacket and docket records indicate that the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due was not received prior to 07/25/2005.

On 07/14/2005, Bernadette Queen, U.S. Patent & Trademark Office, Office of the Director-Publications Division, called Applicant's attorney to advise attorney that the application was technically abandoned because the Issue Fees had not been paid. Bernadette Queen faxed a copy of the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due to Applicant's attorney. A fax copy was received by Applicant's attorney on 7/25/2005.

The undersigned verifies that neither Applicant nor Applicant's attorney became aware of the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due until 07/14/2005, or received the Notice until 07/25/2005, after expiration of the three month statutory period for response.

Hewlett-Packard Development Company (HPDC) is the assignee of the subject Application and the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due was directed to be mailed to Hewlett-Packard Company, P.O. Box 272400, 3404 E Harmony Road, Intellectual Property Administration, Fort Collins, CO 80527-2400. HP receives many Office Actions every day from the U.S. Patent Office (PTO) and has established a very strict program for processing such correspondence in a timely, accurate, consistent and responsible manner. Specifically, all correspondence from the PTO is directed to a central processing location at the above noted Fort Collins address. All correspondence received is immediately recorded into a master mail log for proper docketing and tracking. The correspondence is then forwarded to the responsible patent attorney/agent for appropriate action to be taken.

As such, it is respectfully submitted that HP's mail log, docketing and tracking procedures for all PTO correspondence is sufficiently accurate and reliable such that correspondence is well processed, docketed and recorded, and not easily lost.

Given the forgoing, HP's mail log record shows that the subject Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due was never received by HP. A Declaration of Maria D. Carroll, Legal Administrator for Hewlett-Packard Company with responsibility for maintaining the mail log, is included herewith, along with a copy of the pertinent portion of HP's mail log showing that the Notice was never received.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

SIR OR MADAM:

DECLARATION OF MARIA D. CARROLL IN SUPPORT OF A PETITION TO WITHDRAW THE HOLDING OF ABANDONMENT BASED ON FAILURE TO RECEIVE THE NOTICE OF ALLOWANCE

I, Maria D. Carroll, who resides at Fort Collins, CO and I, Jerry L. Shorma, who resides at Fort Collins, CO hereby declare as follows:

1. I am currently a Legal Administrator for the Hewlett-Packard Corporate Legal Department. I have held this position since January 2, 2004.
2. My responsibilities include maintaining a corporate mail log of formal papers received from the Patent and Trademark Office addressed to the Hewlett-Packard Company, Intellectual Property Administration.
3. My procedure for handling formal papers received from the Patent and Trademark Office is as follows:
  - (a) Mail received from the Patent and Trademark Office is opened and date stamped to reflect the date received.
  - (b) An electronic copy of the formal papers is sent to the responsible Hewlett-Packard attorney for any correspondence with a required due date of less than 7 days from the date received by Hewlett-Packard Company, Intellectual Property Administration.

- (c) The formal papers are entered into the electronic mail log to identify each of the formal papers by the type of action, date of mailing from the Patent and Trademark Office, date of receipt by the Hewlett-Packard Company, Intellectual Property Administration, serial number of the patent application, internal docket number, initials of the responsible Hewlett-Packard attorney, and the HP Office where the file is managed.
  - (d) A Mail Log Report is generated and forwarded to the proper office for docketing in the Hewlett-Packard Patent Database. The original formal papers are scanned and uploaded into the Hewlett-Packard image database. The originals are filed and archived for a two year period in accordance to Hewlett-Packard's Archival policies.
4. A copy of the Hewlett-Packard Legal Department mail log reflecting Mailed Date Period between September 1, 2004 and September 30, 2004 is attached.
5. If a Notice of Allowance were received from the Patent and Trademark Office for patent application serial number 09/728045, Hewlett-Packard attorney's docket number 10001333-1, this Notice of Allowance would have been logged in the mail log reflecting the mailed date of September 7, 2004. This Notice of Allowance does not appear in the attached mail log shown in Appendix A.
6. It is our belief that the Notice of Allowance mailed on September 7, 2004 for patent application serial number 09/728045, Hewlett-Packard attorney's docket number 10001333-1, was not received by Hewlett-Packard Company, Intellectual Property Administration.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

DETAILED ACTION

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. This is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance. The closest prior art Custy et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 5,774,879) discloses an integrated data processing system which comprises an execution control processor that itself comprises a security processor and data base processor. Bidirectional communication with a printer is provided through a print processor to provide for the secure printing of financial instruments. Takashima Keiichi et al. discloses a printing system for creating external character data for a certain character code and sends a data flow which is a character code string containing the character code to CPU 1's printer driver.

However, neither Custy nor Takashima Keiichi et al. singularly or in combination fail to anticipate or render obvious the recited features:

As per claims 1, 11, and 15 "a user interface configured to communicate with the workstation, said user interface having a secured-disable mode and a secure-enable mode such that, in said secure-enable mode, the workstation is enabled to receive the first coding information, and in the secure-disable mode, the workstation is enabled to transmit print data to the printer for printing and the printer prints the print data without receiving the first coding information and the first code entry device and without receiving the second coding information at the second code entry device".

DISCLOSURE TEXT:

- Trends in product labeling produce labels that, within any one label family, have many similar characteristics, but which have one or more elements that make them unique (for example, a sequence number). The addition of graphics can provide yet more variation in the labels within a family. A label applied to logic assemblies (see Fig. 1) is an example of this label type. Label 1 is applied to logic assemblies 2 and 3 and others not shown. Referring to Fig. 2, each label in this label family contains: 1. A graphic symbol 25 -- to tell the user the position in the system where the logic assembly installs. 2. The logic assembly part number 26 -- which is EC sensitive to a limited degree. 3. The part number of the logic card within the logic assembly 27 -- which will change each time an EC is made to the card. 4. A unique sequence number 28 -- comprised of the plant of manufacture, the job number, the last digit of the year of manufacture, and a three-digit unique sequence number. The sequence number must match that of the logic card. 5. The assembly feature code number 29 -- which is keyed to the type of logic assembly. 6. Special text messages 30 -- which appear on some, but not all, labels. - Items 26, 27, 28, and 29 appear in both human- and machine-readable form. - It becomes clear after inspection of the required information on these labels that preprinting is an impossibility. - Labels of this type are most effectively printed on-line and on demand at the assembly workstation on an all-points-addressable printer capable of reproducing graphics. An individualized logic assembly label is printed when a "trigger", in this case a bar code on the card in the logic assembly to be labeled, is scanned with a bar code reader. Printing begins automatically and immediately and is completed within the build cycle of the logic assembly. - Attributes of the print system used to create and print multi-format labels of this and other types are: 1. A menu-driven label design package for use by untrained operators. 2. A menu-driven label package aimed at manufacturing. 3. An automatic digitizing method that eliminates hand digitizing of graphic data including: a. Program utilities which take any graphic from a graphic capable terminal and convert it to a bitmap. - b. Acceptance of input from sources other than graphic terminals (i.e., optical scanners). - c. The ability to automatically digitize graphics, alphabetic or numeric characters, or symbols either singly or in groups. - d. The ability to automatically digitize portions of or the entire field of a particular label or other electronic drawing. 4. A data transmission method to eliminate hard-copy movement of label data from development to manufacturing including: a. Release of an entire label or portions thereof in a fully digitized dataset and ultimate storage of the dataset in the local Manufacturing Control System (MCS) or storage of the dataset directly in a look-up table in a Personal Computer at the label print workstation. - b. Use of a "MIF" (Microcode Image Format) as the dataset format. The MIF is one of a number of standard formats used for encoding data; but is not typically used for the storage of graphic data or label images. Information other than label data can be included in the MIF for different purposes. - c. Inclusion of the MIF in the logic card Bill-of-Material (BOM), or the BOM of any other assembly to be labeled and a cross reference table in the computer program to identify the correct MIF when the assembly part number is scanned. - d. A subroutine in the label print program which searches the MIF files to find the correct digitized label image for the card assembly being built. 5. The ability to selectively print on a substrate with multiple die cuts including: a. The digitizing of all individual labels in a group of labels as if they were a single label. Since all labels in a label group are originally drawn in the correct position relative to their neighbors, correct positioning is guaranteed. - b. The use of either a standard preprinted aiming point (cross-hairs) or the intersection of label die cuts for visual or electronic alignment of the substrate to the printer. This determines the location of the first print element (the remainder being controlled by the printer carriage control). 6. Print options including: a. Capability to select different printers depending on the resolution needs of the label via menus. - b. Capability of the digitizing system to produce a bitmap that is customized to the resolution (dot spacing) of the printer selected. - c. The ability to easily change the bitmap to other ppi spacings to take advantage of printers with different resolutions. - d. The ability to select different printer types (ink jet, laser, etc.) to take advantage of their print process characteristics for different applications. - e. The ability to modify the digitization of any portion of a label such that not every dot in the pattern will be printed. - - To allow reproduction of shaded or photographic graphics. - - To allow reduction of the amount of ink build-up on the substrate, minimizing "smudging" when the label is handled. 7. Computer Integrated Manufacturing (CIM) activities including (but not limited to): a. Producing an on-line routing and BOM visible on a PC for the operator; encoding this information as part of the MIF data so that it is accessed directly and displayed when the label print trigger is activated. - b. Inventory control and parts ordering. By counting labels as they are printed, inventory levels of blank labels can be tracked and automatically ordered at a preset depletion level. - c. Expansion of process control functions. - Additional function, such as the prevention of bypass of logic card testers, may also be added. 8. The ability to extend this method of on-line printing to printed matter other than labels including: a. User guides and other manuals custom-printed with information relating only to the specific features ordered by the customer. - b. Customized pack/unpack instructions, similar to the above. - c. Customized routings for use on the assembly floor, tailored exactly to the configuration being built. - d. Shipping and distribution information. - The program used to print these labels is described below. - Printing of multiple variable format labels on-line requires a computer program operating in a CIM (Computer Integrated Manufacturing) environment that will: 1. Operate in a virtually automatic mode. 2. Recognize and use a "trigger" to begin the label print operation. 3. Use that "trigger" to decide which label to print. 4. Have the capability to handle data used to print labels with varying formats of graphics, text, and bar codes. 5. Have the capability to handle incremental serial or sequence number information. 6. Assemble the required information on the correct label from data stored remotely (bar code characters are treated as graphics and are individually stored in program look-up tables). 7. Initiate the printing of the label itself on demand. 8. Have feedback capability to provide verification that the correct label has been printed. 9. Uses corporate and/or industry standard data transmission and storage mechanisms. 10. Be flexible enough to be used on a wide variety of label types having differing information or may be easily modified to meet other requirements.

Record Display Form

- The program flow diagram for logic card assembly labeling is shown in Fig. 3. Some modification may be needed to accommodate other assembly types. - During the reading of the label MIF (reference the flow chart), the program software looks for type 2 MIF header records. The type 2 header records for label printing are defined as follows: 1. Card name 2. Assembly feature number 3. Card part number (for verification) 4. Assembly part number 5. Mechanical build group bill of material part number 6. Others (presently not used, but held for future needs) The data from these records is read and stored in variables in the code. Also in the MIF read process, the digitized graphic data is read and stored in memory--the height and width data is imbedded in MIF type 3 records. - Card assembly build is typically job oriented. The program is designed such that at the start of assembly of a particular job, the operator indicates that a new job is to be started and scans a bar code (with serial number information) attached to the first logic card in the job. MCS is accessed and the block of serial numbers assigned to the job is brought into storage at the workstation. The part number of the cards in the job is also stored. To print the label for the next, and all successive assemblies in the job, that card bar code is scanned and the part number and serial number are cross checked with the stored part number and serial number block: a card from another job or a card with a different part number will be flagged as one not matching the job in process and no label will be printed. - To print the label, the graphic data is printed using standard graphic printer bit map printing algorithms. The height of the graphic (as read from MIF type 3 records) is used to calculate how many printer line feeds are necessary to position the printer to begin printing the defined bar code/text data. The start point for all printing is defined as a datum at the top left corner of the label substrate. The first bar code/text field is referenced from the same datum and is hard coded into the program. All succeeding bar code/text fields are referenced from the first bar code/text field; the number of line feeds for these fields are also coded into the program. Note that this method defines the program for a single use: that of printing labels 1 in Fig. 1. To generalize the program

ABSTRACT:

PURPOSE: To save time and memory contents which are needed for downloading external characters by identifying external characters contained in input code strings, deciding whether the external characters are registered or not, and registering them, if not registered.

CONSTITUTION: If a user creates external character data for a certain character code and sends a data flow which is a character code string containing the character code to CPU 1's printer driver, in the first place, the first character code of the data flow of text is read. Then search is made as to whether the same character code as the read character code exists in a registration file. If the answer is yes, decision is made as to if a registered flag is on in the registration file of the external character data. If the flag is off, the external character data are read in the external character registration file, and registered in a printer 6 as a character for the current character code.

Notice of Fee Increase on October 1, 2004

If a reply to a "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" is filed in the Office on or after October 1, 2004, then the amount due will be higher than that set forth in the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" because an increase in fees effective on October 1, 2004 is anticipated. See Revision of Patent Fees for Fiscal Year 2005: Proposed Rule, 69 Fed. Reg. 25861, 25863, 25864 (May 10, 2004).

The current fee schedule is accessible from WEB site (<http://www.uspto.gov/main/howtofees.htm>).

If the fee paid is the amount shown on the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" but not the correct amount in view of the fee increase, a "Notice of Pay Balance of Issue Fee" will be mailed to applicant. In order to avoid processing delays associated with mailing of a "Notice of Pay Balance of Issue Fee," if the response to the Notice of Allowance is to be filed on or after October 1, 2004 (or mailed with a certificate of mailing on or after October 1, 2004), the issue fee paid should be the fee that is required at the time the fee is paid. See Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP), Section 1306 (Eighth Edition, Rev. 2, May 2004). If the issue fee was previously paid, and the response to the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" includes a request to apply a previously-paid issue fee to the issue fee now due, then the difference between the issue fee amount at the time the response is filed and the previously-paid issue fee should be paid. See MPEP Section 1308.01.

Effective October 1, 2004, 37 C.F.R. 1.18 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraphs (a) through (c) to read as set forth below. As stated above the final fee may be a different amount, and applicant should check the WEB site given above when paying the fee
